

Q2

Since no index for this table, we need to do a linear search, with cost $O(B(R))$

Thus, the first option which is buy more memory to get larger available memory blocks cannot improve the query performance.

Compared to this, the second option improve the query performance by increase the I/O speed.